

New Learning for parents who attended Mother Tongue Information

Morning

- Keep your mother tongue, even DVD's and T.V
- Not to worry about English at home
- Relax about learning English
- Supporting mother tongue is important to help my child learn English
- To keep reading to my child in their mother tongue
- How MT interacts with English learning and improve with each other
- I felt it was difficult to learn English and keep Japanese but now, I think it's a good opportunity. We are very lucky!
- The new thing for me is reading a book in mother tongue and then discussing the book in English. This is for 2 children and they can learn both languages. Thanks for today's presentation
- I like the idea of researching in Arabic for English work from school.
- I'll go home and tell my children that you said learning more than 1 language makes them smarter (well that's what I understood.) I think they'll be encouraged to talk in Arabic as they hate to do that!!
- I need to help my child to learn to read and write in their mother tongue.
- How I can help develop my child's mother tongue.
- How EAL works at Compass
